NOTICE

In view of the ongoing nationwide petroleum and LPG crisis, and in compliance with the recent general instructions issued by the government advising the adoption of 'Work from Home' protocols, the University has taken the following decisions to ensure the safety and convenience of the students:

- Online Classes: All the classes of the concerned batches will be conducted in online mode from June 15, 2026, to June 30, 2026.
- Hostel Closure: Due to severe disruptions in the LPG supply chains, the University Hostels will not be able to sustain regular mess and daily operations. Therefore, the university hostels will remain closed during the abovementioned period that is from June 15 to June 30, 2026.

The University administration will closely monitor and review the situation on June 25, 2026. Any decision about resuming physical classes and the reopening of the hostels will be made subject to improvements in the supply crisis and revised government directives.

We have to take these decisions ahead of time so that least inconvenience is caused to the students. Students are advised to check the official university website regularly for further updates. We appreciate your cooperation and understanding during these challenging times.
